Social Concerns exists to support, through engagement, education and prayer, existing and future activities within the Parish and our greater community that provide for the social and corporal needs of others.

Racism, violence in schools, drug abuse, unemployment, hunger and unfair labor conditions are examples of social issues in the United States. Typically, social issues result from factors beyond an individual's control and disproportionately affect people who share characteristics such as race, religion, economic status or geographic location.

Question: "Should the church get involved in social issues and causes?" Answer: This issue is the cause of much controversy in the Christian community. Each of the two extremes is represented by those who feel very strongly that their position is the "Christian" one.
